

Hospitality Dojo

Summer 2015

What is a Dojo?

The word “Dojo” is a Japanese word that can roughly be translated “Place of the Way.” Which is fitting, really.

According to a book of the Bible called Acts, the very first name for the Church was “the people of the way.” The way we describe ourselves at Austin Mustard Seed is a church community practicing the way of Jesus. So, we do “dojos.”

What is Hospitality and what does it mean to me?

Define hospitality.

Reflecting on your personality and experience, what does it mean for you to be hospitable?

Why is Hospitality Important to you?

Get Specific

Where can you practice hospitality?

Toward whom can you practice hospitality?

When can you practice hospitality?

Set a Goal

Because (why), I will practice hospitality toward (who), by (doing this) at (this time) at (this place.)
